Electric Power — Unlimited

Congressman Clyde Ellis revived an old controversy last week-end when he charged that Arkansas was in danger of losing two aluminum plant projects because of a shortage of electric power in this state. Mr. Ellis is pretty definitely on the side of publicly-owned power, as opposed to privately-owned power—but anyone who agitates the question of how to obtain more interconnected power for our state brings us something worth listening to.

The uses of electricity being unlimited in this modern day, no man can truthfully say whether Arkansas has sufficient power until he knows

Trailer Camp, Barracks Aid House Problem

Camp Will Accommodate 170 Trailers, Barracks Will House 500 Workers

The crowded housing facilities of this defense boom-town were to a minor extent relieved the past week-end when a trailer camp and men's barracks were opened to employees of the Southwestern Proving Ground, huge ordnance project under construction here.

The trailer camp—as yet unnamed—will provide accommodations for over 170 employee-owned house trailers. The barracks, which have been unofficially designated as "Eveless Eden" will provide housing for about 500 men. The men will eat in a mess hall, with a seating capacity of 300. The service will be strictly family style and available only to those employees living in the barracks. The barracks and mess hall are operated by J. D. Winder, who also manages the cafeteria at the project.

Clean and Comfortable
Men living in the barracks will find accommodations comfortable, clean and well supervised. Steel cots with new mattresses and blankets are provided. Each of seven two-story barracks will furnish quarters for 63 men, while the eighth building has a portion cut off to provide quarters for visitors. These buildings are 296 by 90 feet. A large heating plant in each barracks will insure ample warmth for the men this winter. A large recreation hall is also provided for the barracks occupants. Employees interested in moving to the barracks should see Mrs. Winder at the warehouse office.

The trailer camp is located about three quarters of a mile west of the main entrance to the Proving Ground and may be reached by driving north on Highway 29 from the City of Hope for a distance of approximately three miles. Perhaps because a house trailer represents a fairly large financial investment and is often hard to finance, occupants of the camp on the whole are the better paid class of employees. Skilled workmen, foremen and superintendents, and minor executives make up the bulk of the camp population. Employees desiring to move to the camp should call the Trailer Camp Office, Southwestern Proving Ground Extension 8.

Situated on a slight hill and studded with native oak the site selected for the camp is one of natural beauty. Wide gravelled streets, at frequent intervals, provide easy entry to the trailers. Speed on these streets is limited to ten miles per hour.

Modern Camp
Located at convenient spots about the area are combination wash and bath houses with showers, lavatories, toilets and laundry facilities. A sixty foot recreation building with floor suitable for dancing, fountain bar and the inevitable "Juke Box" is provided for use of trailer residents.

This camp is under the management

U. S. Fortifying Pacific Isle It Doesn't Yet Own

By MILTON BRONNER

NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Even on a large-scale map of the vast Pacific Ocean, Palmyra Island is less than a fly-speck but that tiny dot figures hugely in Uncle Sam's defense set-up. That is why the law machinery of the Department of Justice is fighting to prove that Palmyra Island belongs entirely to the United States government.

Round one has been lost by the government in the U. S. District Court at Honolulu. Government attorneys are now busy preparing their briefs so they will be ready for their appeal to the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

The case originated when the Navy Department prepared to locate a naval air base on Palmyra Island. A snag arose when a number of people laid claim to the island (which is really 54 islets constituting a coral atoll about 1000 miles south of Hawaii).

In 1882, when Hawaii was a kingdom ruled by King Kamehameha IV, he and his cabinet granted Captain Zenos Bent and J. B. Kilkinson permission to take Palmyra as an Hawaiian possession and place it under the Hawaiian flag. Nominal possession passed from these men to various heirs.

In 1911 Circuit Judge Henry E. Cooper purchased a quit claim title from Elsie and F. W. Wootenberg and asked for a territorial land court title. He received this in 1912, after Hawaii territory disclaimed all interest in the land. Judge Cooper sold his claim to 32 of the islets to Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Fullard-Leo. Upon his death the claim to the other islets passed to his heirs.

The U. S. government disputes this ownership. The whole question is whether Bent and Wilkinson merely extended the sovereignty of the Hawaiian kingdom to the island, while they themselves held title to it, or whether they annexed the island as Hawaiian crown lands. If the latter is correct—and this is the government contention—then this crown land passed into the public domain of the United States when it annexed Hawaii in 1898.

The United States formally annexed the island on February 20, 1912, when Rear Admiral W. H. H. Southern planted the flag.

U. S. Will Build Air Base
In the Honolulu Federal Court the government claimed that Bent and Wilkinson had only five-year trading rights in the island, but the judge decided that the island was crown land and had been privately owned by the two men and their successors.

The defeat in the lower court has not prevented the Navy Department from going ahead with its plans. If

Russians Face War Threat on Even Bigger Front

Japanese maneuvers in Manchukuo, Nippon's protests against floating mines in the Sea of Japan, and departure of Soviet embassy staff members from Tokyo are hints that conflict may develop on a new front for Russia. Maps show this horseshoe shaped Siberian front, if unbroken, would be 700 miles longer than Russo-German front in the west.

SPG Men Must Buy State Tags

Revenue Department Orders Collection of Auto Fees

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The State Revenue Department Tuesday ordered collection of state automobile license fee on between 300 and 400 cars owned by persons employed on the Hope Proving Ground project, and four agents sent into the area to gather fees.

Assistant Revenue Commissioner Whit Morgan, said owners of the cars bearing tags from other states had been given blue stickers permitting operation without Arkansas plates for 30 days, and that this period had expired last Saturday.

Dr. Brinkley Is Indicted

5 Others Also Charged With Using Mails to Defraud

LITTLE ROCK — Dr. John R. Brinkley, the gland specialist, his wife and 5 employees of the hospital formerly operated here by him was indicted by a federal grand jury Tuesday on charges of mail fraud in connection with medical services offered by the Brinkley institute.

The indictment cited 15 counts based on papers and pamphlets mailed to persons in several states. Most of the alleged offenses occurred in 1930. The mailings were from Little Rock and Del Rio, Texas.

Other indicted were Dwight Osborn, J. H. Davis, O. B. Chandler, A. Lewis Kline, A. C. Petermeyer and Vera Wederbrook.

One of the principal charges in the indictment was that the defendant had falsely pretend that Brinkley was a great surgeon, scientist and physician and that he, while visiting in Europe, had found a real substance which, when properly administered, would restore to normal sexual vigor, sexually weak men and women.

Nazis Report on Pink Star

Says Ship Was Sunk According to Laws of War

BERLIN (AP)—Authorized German sources expressed the opinion Tuesday that "whatever happened to the American-owned steamer Pink Star it was done in accordance with the laws of war."

They said no German submarines had specifically reported the sinking of the Panama registered Pink Star but added a message was received concerning attacks and the sinking of several ships out of a big convoy.

"The vessel was Panamanian and not United States," the authorized sources declared, "and we have not heard yet that Panama is a part of the United States."

"The vessel was sunk in waters clearly defined as German operation area," the sources said.

They declared that Secretary of State Hull drove America another step nearer the war with his statement Monday that the U. S. neutrality act should be changed.

Sikes Is Easy for Comiskey

Scores Technical Knockout Early in 6th Round

LITTLE ROCK — A crushing right cross with all his 216 pounds behind it, clobbered Patrick Edward Comiskey, 21-year-old superheavyweight form Paterson, N. J., to score a technical knockout early in the sixth round over gallant Robert Lee Sikes of Pine Bluff, in the rodeo arena last night.

A crowd estimated at 9,000 was on its feet at Issy Kline, Sike's co-manager and second, rushed over after the Southern heavy-weight champ had dropped for the fourth time during the fight and asked Referee Eddie Wolfe of Memphis to stop it. The end came 30 seconds after the start of the round.

It was the third straight victory for the Jersey Atlas who held a 30-pound advantage in weight, over the 186-pound Arkansas Pat. He pounded Bob out of the picture in one round in Jersey City last summer and defeated him decisively in 10 rounds in Memphis last winter.

Gasoline consumption rises and falls regularly with the seasons. During the winter, average monthly consumption nationally is 1,500,000,000 gallons; in the fall it averages 1,800,000,000 and rises above 2,000,000,000 in spring and summer months.

Says 3 Million Germans Lost

Ambassador Asserts Both Sides Lose Heavily

LONDON (AP)—Three million Germans—one third of the Nazi army—has been killed, wounded or missing after three months of war with Russia, the Soviet Ambassador Ivan Maisky, said Tuesday in an address before the American Chamber of Commerce.

The German high command's report last week concerning German losses was utterly ridiculous he said, calling his own estimates a moderate one.

He said that Germany had lost 8,500 planes in the campaign and conceded that Russia, like the Germans, had suffered heavy losses and "the enemy has occupied important industrial districts and we have had to evacuate a number of factories and plants."

Warning against dangerous belief which he said arose from glib talk about "generals and winter and mud" he said the facts proved that the Nazi war machine was still strong.

"Russia is facing a tense and difficult situation," he said "and there is no use in people shutting their eyes to realities and to the situation."

While he voiced no doubt that the original German plan was upset and that Hitler's lightning war had failed miserably he declared the war on the eastern front will not be at a stand still either in autumn or winter and that the Soviet people do no base their views on such calculations.

Army Airforce Highly Praised

Surpasses All Expectations Officials Assert

WASHINGTON (AP)—High military officials said Tuesday that the army airforce had surpassed all expectations for performance during the Louisiana maneuvers and that "only time stood between the United States and unchallenged superiority in the air."

Combat craft ordered only a few months ago and fresh trained pilots participated in the games which just ended. They had the task of demonstrating whether this country had the world's best airforce in the point of quality.

Except for the absence of live ammunition the flying was done under conditions as nearly warlike as could be made and authorities just returned from the maneuver area with copious data on results said they could not ask for better performance.

Says Red Army Falls Back to Don River Area

Germans Claim 750,000 Soviet Troops Lost in Capture of Kiev

By the Associated Press
Adolf Hitler's high command Tuesday reported the destruction of 50 Soviet army divisions—about 750,000 men — and the capture of 380,000 prisoners in the bloody trap 125 miles east of Kiev while an Italian dispatch pictured scenes of retreat by Russian armies in the Ukraine.

The commander and chief of the Soviet's fifth army was listed among the prisoners. Stefani, Italian news agency, said in a front line dispatch that Red troops hurried back from the Dnieper river were fleeing in disorder, without artillery, toward a new defense line on the east bank of the Don river.

Huge Scale Retreat
If true this means a huge scale retreat and abandonment of the great Donets river industrial basin. Stefani quoted Red army prisoners as saying the Soviet command was sending reserve units southward from Moscow and from the Don and Volga river zones to bolster the new front.

The news agency quoted prisoners as saying that Marshal Budenny, commander and chief of the Ukraine forces, had been relieved of his command and replaced by General Himeshenko who commanded the central front. Timoshenko is credited by the Russians with smashing the main German onslaught toward Moscow and having the Nazi invaders back after they had advanced beyond Smolensk.

Many Supplies Seized
Hitler's field headquarters in a special bulletin on the fighting east of Kiev said German troops slashing into 4 entrapped Russian armies already had taken 570 tanks, 2,100 guns and large amounts of stores and supplies.

The encircled Red army, it was asserted, is rapidly dissolving and at many points officers and commissars of the Soviet forces left their troops.

An authorized military quarters in London acknowledged that the Soviet situation in the south faced an uglier situation than ever before in the 94-day-old struggle but declared that a more optimistic outlook was developing on the northern front.

Around Leningrad, the British sources said, the situation was not unfavorable and north of Leningrad on the Karelian isthmus the Russians were said to be holding the German allied Finns on approximately the line of the pre-1940 frontier.

In the Ukraine the British admitted that Russia, like the Germans, had suffered heavy losses and "the enemy has occupied important industrial districts and we have had to evacuate a number of factories and plants."

Warning against dangerous belief which he said arose from glib talk about "generals and winter and mud" he said the facts proved that the Nazi war machine was still strong.

"Russia is facing a tense and difficult situation," he said "and there is no use in people shutting their eyes to realities and to the situation."

While he voiced no doubt that the original German plan was upset and that Hitler's lightning war had failed miserably he declared the war on the eastern front will not be at a stand still either in autumn or winter and that the Soviet people do no base their views on such calculations.

Ellis Fagan Much Improved

Hospital to Release Man Who Stabbed Self Monday

Josephine hospital attendants said that Ellis Fagan, about 40, of Murfreesboro who slashed and stabbed himself with a knife and an ice pick last Monday afternoon near Rocky Mount community, would probably be released to his home sometime Tuesday.

Fagan, who inflicted several wounds about his chest and throat, was reported much improved Tuesday.

Local police continued to investigate the case, and that of Elmer Bowman who was stabbed in a Texarkana cafe Sunday night. Fagan and other Hope men are believed to have been in the cafe at the time Bowman was stabbed.

Bowman was still in a critical condition in a Texarkana hospital.

New Senator Steals Movie Inquiry Show

WASHINGTON — Freshman Senator Ernest W. McFarland of Florence, Ariz., cut his senatorial eye-teeth and became a hero the other day in most amusing fashion, and with a big, boyish grin started biting his scowling, deep-dish colleagues of the Interstate Commerce sub-committee inquiring into propaganda aspects of the movies.

It was quite a surprise to everyone, and perhaps most of all to the 47-year-old junior senator himself. But with Wendell Willkie, hired as high-priced counsel to defend the movie moguls, theoretically silenced and refused permission to cross-examine the witnesses, McFarland as the "minority" member of the sub-committee began to do a little cross-examination on his own account. And he stole the show, taking the play away from such able debaters as Senators Nye of North Dakota and Bennett Clark of Missouri.

What wasn't generally known is that McFarland is an experienced court lawyer. Even though he has been in Washington only since January, back in Arizona he is known as "Judge Mack" of the state superior court, and before that as a trial lawyer he defended Winnie Ruth Judd of trunk murder fame, getting her death sentence reduced to insanity. As prosecuting attorney of Pinal county in 1928 he secured the conviction of Eva Dugan, the first woman to be executed for murder in Arizona.

Just Like Lawing
After the first sessions of the movie hearings were over, McFarland admitted he got a kick out of the proceedings, as he hadn't done any trial lawyering for a few years, but from this it should not be deduced that McFarland is handling the minority end of the inquiry just as a lark. He agrees that it would have been a bad precedent to let Willkie cross-examine witnesses.

Just why McFarland was put on the sub-committee, Judge Mack doesn't even know himself. The chairman, Senator Worth Clark of Idaho, and other members, Tobey of New Hampshire, Brooks of Illinois and Bone of Washington, are all isolationists in their leanings. McFarland has distinguished himself principally by keeping his mouth shut, as a freshman senator perhaps should. He has made a couple of short speeches, and voted for lease-lend, other administration foreign policies, and he favored McFarland's technique is perhaps best illustrated by an exchange with Senator Nye on the opening day of the session. Nye had just recited a list of films he said were propaganda and McFarland asked which ones had been objectionable.

Nye—It is most difficult. I go to a film tonight and tomorrow my recollection is hazy. But I recall "I Married a Nazi."

McFarland—All right, what was objectionable?

Nye—The injection of scenes that tended to make one hate a whole race of people.

McFarland—What portrayal induced hate?

Nye—I suggest you see the picture. There is in it a spirit of hate.

McFarland—That's a conclusion. Did you see "Escape"?

Nye—I can't remember. I am afraid I am terrible injustice to you when I inflict my conclusions upon you.

McFarland—Don't worry about me; I'll take care of myself.

Don't Worry About the Judge
That last phrase is perhaps more characteristic of the young senator than anything that could be said about him, for he has been taking care of himself quite well, thank you, for almost as long as he can remember, climaxing with his defeat of the veteran Senator Henry F. Ashurst in the Arizona primary in 1940 by a two-to-one vote, after Ashurst had been in Washington 28 years.

McFarland is a Democrat, but he's not sure that he likes being called a New Dealer. What embarrasses him most now is finding himself on the same side of an argument with Willkie and some other Republicans.

He is not making any public statements about the movie hearings, or condemning his seniors and colleagues on the other side of the fence. Privately, he has expressed the fear that the inquiry is going to drag on and on, and on witness after another, until the hearings become just plain tiresome. When that time comes, he may have something to say, and it

Basso's Recipes For Spaghetti His Best Libretti

By MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Service Staff Writer

Spaghetti with meat sauce is an international favorite, and Ezio Pinza, handsome basso of the Metropolitan Opera Company, gives his favorite recipe. "It's a slight variation of the one my mother used in Italy," he says. "Cook the sauce four hours to give it that wonderful Old World flavor. Better make your own spaghetti noodles, too. Takes only five minutes."

Meat Sauce
Two pounds chopped meat, preferably mixed ground beef and pork, 1 cup stale bread crumbs, 4 beaten eggs, 2 tablespoons chopped parsley, 1/2 cup olive oil.

Spaghetti Sauce
Two minced onions, 2 cloves of garlic, 2 cups canned tomatoes, 2 small cans tomato paste, 1 bay leaf, salt and pepper.

Mix the ground meat together with the stale bread crumbs, parsley, beaten eggs and seasoning. Shape into small balls and fry quickly in olive oil. Remove, put onions and garlic (chopped fine) in oil, fry until brown.

will probably be worth listening to. Judge Mack has the makings of a good senator, and the administration needs new talent.

Then add the tomato, tomato paste, and bay leaf. Cook on low fire for about three hours, adding a little water when needed. An hour before serving put meat balls into sauce and cook until ready to serve.

Another favorite recipe of this famous Metropolitan singer is corn chowder.

Corn Chowder
(Serves 8)
Two ounces salt pork, diced, 1 small onion, sliced, 1 No. 2 can corn or 2 1/2 cups cooked fresh corn, 2 cups diced potatoes, 1 1/2 cups raw or canned tomatoes, 1 tablespoon sugar, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, 4 cups boiling water, 1 cup hot milk, crackers.

Fry pork golden brown; add onion and cook without browning 5 minutes. Add vegetables in layers; sprinkle with sugar and seasonings; add water and cook slowly until potatoes are tender. Remove from heat and slowly stir in milk. Place crackers in hot soup plates and pour in chowder.
